

daily scrub

A pore excuse for a beauty blog

+ SHARE

SEARCH DAILY SCRUB

GO

I don't usually "do" organic, vegan beauty....

CATEGORY: I ACTUALLY TRIED THIS

But I do now. Thanks to Sharon "Organic" McGlinchey and Ere "Natural" Perez. If these two were forced to face each other in a boxing match Sharon would wear white, Ere would wear green, Sharon would squirt organic anti-oxidant rich cleansing oil into Ere's face and Ere would poke Sharon in the eye with a jojoba oil eye pencil. But of course this would never happen, because obviously they prohibit using anything other than fists in boxing. Haha! No, it would never happen because these two would rather have a cup of green tea and a vegan muffin than dish out high-speed flying kicks.

They both have extensive websites that are worth sniffing around, but here are some of the reasons I want to give them some press:

Sharon

1. Maggie Gyllenhaal and Sam Sparro are fans of both her products, but especially her famed facials. Click here to see where she performs said facial, but the place I had mine is Skin by Scott and Sullivan, which was fortunate because it is in the achingly hip Ivy complex, and I think (Kaye) Scott and (Lisa) Sullivan are all kinds of awesome. (They also run The Clinic in Bondi Junction.)

Beauty Duty: Part 2: Top Ten Fragrance Finds This Christmas

Yesterday I was telling you about the crazy statistic I found that stated 30 to 35 per cent of yearly fragrance sales are made in December. Yes, I still think that's...more

POSTED BY:

Ere Perez

1. A beauty editor friend of mine swears by and has sworn by for many years, Ere's Natural Almond Oil Mascara, which is the only mascara available to my knowledge that people with very sensitive eyes can wear. This is because it never uses any harsh words, never teases and.... ok, that's a shit joke. Sorry. The reason is because it's formulated with organic almond oil and beeswax and has no chemicals whatsoever. Huzzah!

2. Ere does vegan makeup, which as any vegan will tell you, is a bit of a bitch to find. I'm personally a fan of the Natural Rosehip Oil Lipbar in Love, $19.95, which has received several kilos of press lately probably because it has SPF 15, is enriched with Vitamin E and with rosehip oil (which you guys know I ADORE and would eat on toast if I could). The sheer petal pink tint is perfect for smoky eyes, or a pretty spring look.

3. Her tinted rice powders (Rice! Now not just for dinner!) are perfect for sensitive skins (they are mineral makeup... and then some) as they're free from harmful chemicals and 100% cruelty free and vegan.

4. Ere lives around the corner from me and is Mexican Australian, so there is a small chance she will invite me over for fajitas or some Salsa dancing one day, both of which are activities I enjoy.

WED, 26 NOVEMBER 2008 11:36AM

SAVE TO FAVOURITES · EMAIL · PRINT · (1) COMMENTS ADD A COMMENT

TAGS: AUSTRALIAN MADE, CHEMICAL, ECZEMA, NATURAL, ORGANIC, SENSITIVE SKIN, VEGAN

1 Comments

View most recent ▼

- Inexplicable Fascination
- Little Slices
- Look Thief
- Media Monitoring
- Salons, spas, services: Sweeeet.
- Spring/Summer 09

(Massively) Popular Tags

zinc zac posen yves saint laurent ysl yellow wwd wrinkles wild wigs weightloss week waves

Most Commented

Most Recommended

- Tattoos: Cool or a bit wrong?
COMMENTED BY 15 READERS
- Oh, look! We're LIVE!
COMMENTED BY 15 READERS
- Posh's new haircut is the best she's ever had
COMMENTED BY 14 READERS