Mineral make-up is nothing new, so we're constantly looking out for exciting brands that stay true to their green roots, like Almay's Pure Blend collection. Each product (including liquid make-up, finishing powder, bronzer and eyeshadow) is formulated with antioxidant-rich flowers and fruit extracts like lotus, orchid and acai, contains over 95 per cent natural ingredients and remains paraben and talc free. And to cap things off, Kate Hudson is the global brand ambassador - a perfect partnership, as the star shares the same philosophy about natural beauty and protecting the environment. m
